This is the EARTHSONG for 2009-2010 AD. It is a circular calendar with 5 rings and a central template of a left iris. The outer ring of the calendar shows the dates in an anticlockwise direction starting on the 21st of June 2009. The inner ring shows astrological glyphs of the periods during which the sun moves through a zodiac sign starting when the sun moves into Cancer. The second ring shows the 24 Chi Chi circuits of which there are 2 per zodiac sign. A Chi Chi circuit lasts for 15 to 16 days and they progress in alphabetical order. The 3d and 4th rings show the 4 morning and 4 afternoon moods by coloured boxes. These moods correspond to the bioelectrical circuits shown in the central picture of the left eye template. The letter in the first box indicates the organ being vibrated. To find out which organ, locate the letter in the inner Chi Chi ring. The issue in that organ can be read from the left eye template and the tarot cards for the moods are found in the corresponding space. For Example: The mood in Byron Bay between noon and 1.15pm on the 1st of June 2010 is P which is the Colon, this corresponds to an issue with activity and the cards are the Ace of Swords and Ace of Clouds.

How to use the EARTHSONG to find the MOOD

EARTHSONG Calendar Key

The EARTHSONG shows the 4 moods relating to 2 circuits in our left eye and the chi chi circuits for each day of the year. The 8 moods occur 3 times and the chi chi circuits 6 times in a 24 hour period, as shown below.

MOOD Key

The Pulse's 2 components are shown in the above Mood Key as waveforms. The moods in this example are 1.5 hours during the day because there are 12 hours of daylight ($12/8=1.5$). The times at which the mood changes, are shown for both morning and afternoon circuits. These need to be adjusted for daylight saving when this is operating. The moods last for 45 minutes during the night ($12/16=0.75$). On the calendar the first mood of each circuit is also indicated by a letter which is the sound vibrated by the circuit. By finding this letter in the chi chi ring, which is in alphabetical order, you will know which 2 organs' circuits are activated on the day. The issue corresponding to those organ's moods can then be found in the centre of the EARTHSONG on the bioelectronic map of the Left Eye.
