T ADRENALS Blue/Courage

The adrenals are two glands that produce a substance called adrenalin and they are situated above the kidneys. Adrenalin gives us courage and turns us on sexually. In them is the fear of death.

The police vibrate these organs as well as criminals. The victim and the perpetrator are the opposite sides of the coin. The positive gives us courage, will, cover and fairness. The negative states are: Dread (fear of what is ahead), Hypertension (fear of what is behind), Exhibitionism (too tough to feel pain) and Voyeurism (fear of being found out).

A creature is the bear, and a country is Russia.

In the female left eye the moods are the sevens in the Tarot. The most frequent illusion in the adrenals is the seven of pentacles where one gets disappointed because you got too excited before the result is there. The adrenals check with the spinal base and the hara. The major arcana card is the The Lovers/The Lovers.

During the first part of Aries be as courageous as possible and STAY HERE NOW.
